

Battle For Moscow Bogs Down

By The Associated Press
The Germans claimed last (Wed.) night that their Crimean spearhead had broken through to the shores of the Kerch strait within sight of the Caucasus, but along the central front their cold and weary armies apparently were struggling bitterly for no better than a draw above and below Moscow.

Of this latter theater Berlin was all but silent, save for the single claim that a Soviet cavalry division had been smashed about 100 miles south of Moscow around Tula, and dispatches from Germany significantly implied that a stalemate similar to that with France during the winter of 1939-40 was in sight.

Official Soviet accounts, however, reported continued violent action on the extreme right and left Red flanks. At Tula, where the Germans had reported their one action of consequence on the Moscow front, the Russians asserted that the invaders had in fact been driven back for five miles and even then were able to restore a line only with great difficulty.

Germans Unsuccessful
At Kalinin, 95 miles above Moscow, Soviet sources reported that the Germans were attacking with "unabating strength" on the fourth day of an unsuccessful attempt to break that flank and that although their casualties were heavy Nazi reserves were still coming up to the line.

Southwest of the capital it appeared that an earlier advance had carried the Germans to within 35 to 33 miles of the city, the Russians themselves acknowledging that the thrust had carried to the vicinity of Narotominsk, 25 miles away.

There was nothing, however, to suggest that this advance had been extended and, indeed, nothing to suggest that it had been carried out by other than small bodies of troops.

Progress for the Crimean offensive was announced by the German high command. The southern Crimean coast was reached, it stated, at a point just south of the city of Kerch itself, which is separated at one point by only two miles of water from the western Caucasus.

Prediction by Churchill
The day's most important development of the war in the long view was a prediction by Winston Churchill that by 1943 "the freedom-loving powers" would be able to produce enough ships to support an overseas invasion which was "utterly beyond British resources at the present time."

This, he made clear, was based upon great American help in ships, for he remarked that the United States now was building merchant vessels on a scale many times greater than was possible in Britain.

It depended, too, he said, on whether "the war against U-boats continues to prosper as it has done."

He raised the possibility of a German attempt at invasion of the British Isles. He attributed to Rudolf Hess, the high Nazi who flew to Scotland on a still unexplained mission and is now a captive, the word that Hitler had "relied upon a starvation attack even more than upon invasion to bring us to our knees."

Since this had failed, the prime minister added, "this only increases his need to come at us by direct invasion as soon as he can screw up his courage and make arrangements to take the plunge."

The Japanese dilemma—to draw back or plunge in—was reflected during the day by a meeting of Japan's privy council to discuss the powerful united front raised by Britain and the United States in the Pacific.

INVESTIGATE
Los Angeles, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Every time George Whaley, radio broadcaster for the sheriff's office, tried to send out messages nothing but catcalls went on the air.

He telephoned Bob Miller, operator of the short-wave sending tower to investigate.

Miller found the station mascot, a cat named Sparky, trapped in the transmitter. Every time a message went out, the electricity drew a yowl out of Sparky.

Four Workers Are Killed In Powder Mill Explosion

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Four tons of black powder manufactured for the war department blew up today, jarring Peoria with a double explosion that killed four workmen and was attributed to an industrial accident.

Four men were blown to bits by the blast. It was felt 40 miles away, broke plate glass windows 15 miles distant and was first thought to be an earthquake by thousands of persons in one of Illinois' most populous downstate areas.

Only Six Hurt
Other workmen escaped and only six suffered cuts and bruises.

Federal agents found no sign of sabotage around the two demolished buildings of the Western Powder Manufacturing Company's plant in the wooded hills near Edwards, 12 miles west of here.

A. H. Crowl, agent in charge of the FBI office at Springfield, said that company guards had inspected the site 20 minutes before the explosion. A subsequent investigation, he said, indicated that an industrial accident was responsible.

The plant, erected before the World war, was a subsidiary of the Western Cartridge Company and was manufacturing powder under a war department contract.

To Resume Operations
Manager George Devalt said operations would probably be resumed tomorrow without waiting to reconstruct the buildings, a hydraulic press unit and a corning mill. They were isolated in two deeply eroded depressions between wooded ridges.

Black powder detonates only when ignited by a spark, Devalt said. One building blew up and was immediately followed by the second explosion, presumably caused when debris landed on the other building 100 yards away. Devalt wasn't sure which exploded first. One other structure was damaged.

The victims were Harold Honta, Harold Windish, Lloyd Dalton and Arthur Kendall.

Some trees and rocks nearby showed the force of the blast, but wide distances and safety precautions kept damage to a minimum around the 400-acre plant, although one unidentified workman said he had been blown into a tree. He ran as soon as he heard a deep rumbling prelude to the detonation.

French War Minister Is Burned To Death
Was In Plane Crash With Seven Others; All Were Killed

Vichy, Unoccupied France, Nov. 12.—(AP)—General Charles Huntziger, French minister of war and commander-in-chief of the French army, was burned to death with seven other persons today in the crash of the plane in which he was returning from a three-weeks' tour of North Africa.

The 4-engine plane, Huntziger's personal machine, crashed against mountainside, 15 miles from the town of Le Vigan, in the desolate country east of the Tarn river in southern France. The wreckage was found early tonight.

Thrown Into Confusion
In Vichy the war ministry was thrown into confusion by the news and it was believed in diplomatic circles that the general's death would have an important effect on the delicate balance of Marshal Petain's government.

Huntziger, 61, held one of the keys to this balance. The slender, cold-eyed officer had remained minister of war even after Vice-Premier Admiral Jean Darlan had taken over his portfolio of minister of defense. Definitely anti-British, he had been sent to North Africa in October to confer with General Maxim Weygand, who is at the head of France's united armies on that continent.

Spaniel Recovers From Imprisonment
Viroqua, Wis., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Pete, a spaniel, was recovered fully today from a 41-day imprisonment between the joists of a chicken coop.

The dog disappeared Sept. 24, apparently having squeezed under the coop in pursuit of a rabbit. Its plight was discovered Nov. 3. Normally weighing 25 pounds, it had wasted away to about five pounds.

Dr. R. S. Hirsch, the dog's owner, who nursed it back to health, said that rain water which had run under the coop saved the dog's life.

Peach Growers Hold Meeting
Richmond, Va., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Peach growers of states east of the Mississippi river met today to consider organizing a permanent national peach growers marketing committee.

The meeting here was called by a temporary committee named at Columbus, Ohio, last summer when the growers met to consider the surplus peach crop. Last season's total crop was placed at 66,000,000 bushels, compared with an average annual production of 54,000,000 over a ten-year period.

LAUNCH EIGHTH SHIP
Kearny, N. J., Nov. 12.—(AP)—The 9,441-ton cargo vessel Jean Lykes slid down the ways of the navy-operated Federal Ship-Building & Dry Dock Company into the Hackensack river today, the eighth ship launched since the navy took over and the 15th completed at the yard this year.

KILLED IN ACCIDENT
Hinsdale, Ill., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Glen Marx, a maintenance man for the state division of highways, was killed today in an automobile accident at an intersection five miles south of here.

Telephone Workers To Strike

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—John J. Moran, president of the Federation of Long Line Telephone Workers, an independent union, said tonight he had taken action to place in effect Nov. 14 a strike of 15,000 workers who handle long distance lines in 42 states of the nation.

The decision to go ahead with the strike, approved Nov. 3, was reached after a meeting today with the U. S. Conciliation Service and representatives of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, Moran said. It would become effective at midnight, Thursday.

Union demands include a 4 per cent wage boost and narrowing of geographic pay differentials.

Moran said today's meeting failed to make any progress and that no effort had been made to certify the dispute of the national mediation board.

Moran announced that he had notified the army and navy, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Defense Communications Board, the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the Columbia Broadcasting System, National Broadcasting Company and the Mutual Broadcasting System of the union's intention to go on with the strike.

Each service and organization was informed, Moran said, that the union wished to provide sufficient forces to maintain telephone and telegraph wires for national defense purposes during the strike.

Would Halt Transmission
Besides affecting those services and organizations the strike would halt the transmission of pictures by wire and teletypewriter news service. States where workers would not be on strike are Washington, Oregon, New Hampshire, Vermont, Nevada and Montana.

The A. T. and T. has contended that the federation refused to resume negotiations for a new contract to replace one which expired Oct. 22 unless the management would agree in advance to immediate wage increases, "regardless of conditions in various areas."

Under the old contract wage differentials were as high as $21 weekly, Henry Mayer, federation counsel said. He said the present wage scale ran from $18 to $66 for men and from $13 to $31 for women.

Death Stills The Chattering Tongue Of Abe Reles
Falls While Trying To Escape From Sixth Floor Hotel Window

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Gangdom "singing master," Abe (Kid Twist) Reles, known as the executive vice-president of Murder Incorporated, will speak no more. Death stifled his chattering tongue early today.

Official records say he fell while attempting escape from a sixth floor window of the Half Moon Hotel at Coney Island where, with other material witnesses, he was being held incommunicado by police.

Was To Be Witness
Reles was to appear as a prosecution witness against Louis (Lepke) Buchalter, president of Murder Inc., and two others who are being tried for murder in Brooklyn county court.

District Attorney William O'Dwyer of Brooklyn theorized that Reles had become increasingly afraid of appearing against his feared former henchman and attempted escape by tying wire to a radiator, wrapped it with bed sheets, and lowering himself to the street. But the wire broke and Reles fell to the sundeck of the hotel. He was dead when police found him.

ASK APPROVAL
Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The Union Electric Company of Missouri and its subsidiary, Union Electric Company of Illinois, asked the Securities Commission today to approve the proposed sale of 150,000 additional shares of common stock by the subsidiary to its parent. The application said that the proceeds would be used to finance a construction program of Union Electric of Illinois.

COIN-ACCUMULATING
New York, Nov. 12.—(The Special Journal-Courier News Service)—Rally round, you penny-pinchers and nickel hoarders, and we'll give you the latest leaders in the coin-collecting marathon, otherwise known as take-care-of-the-pennies-and-the-dollars-will take-care-of-somebody-else's sweepstakes.

Coin-accumulating now rears its head as an aid to romance. When a Romeo, Va., couple went to get a marriage license, the man put up $2 and the girl plunked down 300 pennies. If she hadn't been a penny-saver—who knows?

A Syracuse, N. Y., couple tried to go home one better, but wound up one worse. They counted out 400 pennies for the blood test, and 300 for the marriage license—and then got a ticket for having neglected to put a penny in a parking meter.

At a Bloomington, Ill., minister's 77th wedding, the groom presented him with 77 pennies, which the minister said was more than he usually got.

Getting up into the semi-pro coin savers, an ordensburg, N. Y., woman paid for a new barn floor with 2,000 pennies. . . . And a Bethlehem, Pa., lady paid her taxes with 2,840 coppers. It took six clerks 20 minutes to count 'em, which seems like fitting revenge. . . . and a Buffalo, N. Y., delicatessen proprietor paid his taxes with 4,000 pennies. Who said you couldn't get blood out of a herring?

A little girl in Fairbury, Neb., turned up at the bank with 5,000 pennies. Counting them up took two tellers two hours—while Audrey doubtless laughed and laughed. . . .

But the grand prize of a red cent in the pennies division goes (if he will claim it) to an anonymous citizen of Buford, Ga., who bought a suite of furniture, and then asked for a wheelbarrow, returning presently with no less than 100 pounds of pennies—16,390 of them. It's a wonder he didn't run afoul of the priorities division.

And the consolation prize of a wooden nickel goes to the Chicago couple who started out five years ago to save $1,000 in dimes and got up to $900 when a burglar stole their ideas—and the dimes. . . .

Oh, Sam! . . .

FDR Calls New Conference On Coal Mine Disagreement

House Begins Neutrality Bill Debate

Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Administration leaders fought with their backs to the wall today to save neutrality act amendments permitting American ships to enter belligerent ports from rejection by the House of Representatives.

Worried by defection among some southern Democrats who previously had supported the administration's foreign policy, they spent the day solemnly talking to uncommitted members and conferring in the office of Speaker Rayburn.

Some influential Democrats said that President Roosevelt was apprehensive lest an administration defeat, coming just before the arrival of a special Japanese envoy, might aggravate the already critical situation in the Orient.

Rayburn Confident of Passage
Rayburn said he thought enough votes were available to push the legislation through. But none was certain, and some, in fact, were suggesting to the leadership that the best course would be to postpone the vote until the situation could be gauged more surely.

The vote, meanwhile, was scheduled for mid or late afternoon tomorrow when the conclusion of eight hours debate which began today in an atmosphere electric with the tension of a world crisis, and in some instances with indignation over the domestic strike situation.

Contains Two Issues
The legislation presents amendments to the neutrality law containing two issues: Shall American ships be armed for their protection against submarines and aircraft, and shall they be permitted to carry cargo to England and other belligerent nations. Both courses are forbidden by the neutrality law.

The House had already approved the armed ship proposal, and it was not directly involved in today's discussions. The clause freeing American shipping of the present restrictions upon its movements was added in the Senate—at the urging of the administration. It came back to the House today upon a motion to concur in the Senate amendment.

Utilities Head Describes History Of His Company
Story Told At Hearing On Revision Of Firm's Corporate Setup

Washington, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Allen Van Wyck, president of Illinois Iowa Power Company, described the history of his company today at a Securities Commission hearing on revision of the company's corporate setup.

The SEC said the aim of the hearing was to determine what must be done to "remove undue and unnecessary complications in the corporate structure" and to insure "fair and equitable" distribution of voting power among stockholders.

Is Only Witness
Van Wyck was the only witness. At the end of the day, Herman Odell, SEC attorney, told the trial examiner that he intended to ask for a two week recess in order to prepare additional testimony. The witnesses were dismissed pending the fixing of a date for resumption of the hearing.

Outside of the hearing, Van Wyck said that the company was "working intensively" on plans which would meet SEC's objections to the company's present setup, but that the details were not yet complete. The commission in its order did not propose steps to be taken, but asked the company to say what it felt should be done.

KNICKERBOCKER
Chicago, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Rex Smith, editor of the new morning newspaper to be published in Chicago soon, announced today that H. R. Knickerbocker, former roving correspondent for International News Service, would be chief of the newspaper's foreign service.

Knickerbocker will join the publication in both a writing and an executive capacity, Smith said.

The new newspaper, as yet unnamed, is owned by Marshall Field and will be published by Silman Evans.

HARGREAVES DIES
Hollywood, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Richard L. Hargreaves, 52, former Beverly Hills banker and husband of Helen Ferguson, silent screen actress, died of a heart attack today.

He and Miss Ferguson were married in 1930, a year after his divorce from Grace Bryan, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan. They were married in 1933 and had four children.

R. R. Unions Call 350,000 Out On Strike December 7

Chicago, Nov. 12.—(AP)—A legion of 350,000 railroad employees who operate the nation's trains was under orders tonight to go on strike Dec. 7, 8 and 9 in support of demands for a 30 per cent wage increase.

It appeared that President Roosevelt alone could initiate the next move to prevent the walkout which would paralyze a carrier system booming with the business of hauling goods and passengers vital to the defense program.

Set Dates for Walkout
Chief of the five operating brotherhoods, which include engineers, firemen and engineers, conductors, trainmen and switchmen, set the dates today for the progressive walkout and said they had so informed the chairman of the carriers' conference committees.

A spokesman for rail management said there was no comment from that side.

The operating brotherhoods demanded 30 per cent more pay, their lowest bracket now being $5.06 a day. President Roosevelt's Emergency Fact Finding Board recommended a 71 per cent increase for these men but the unions rejected that proposal and called the strike which had been authorized by the membership as early as Sept. 5.

Railroad management has announced its acceptance, despite its disapproval, of the Fact Finding Board recommendations.

Finland, U. S. Farther Apart Than Ever
Finns Refuse To Cease Hostilities Against Russians

Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Finland and the United States were farther apart than ever tonight after the little country had rejected an American demand for cessation of Finnish hostilities against Russia.

Secretary of State Hull implied that Finland had evaded the real issue in a note handed to the American minister in Helsinki. This note asserted that Finland was fighting a defensive war, not an offensive one; that her alliance with Germany did not threaten her independence, and that her fight did not endanger United States security.

Calls Attacks Unjustified
The present conflict, she said, follows "two unjustified attacks on the part of the mighty Bolshevik terroristic state, with neither the United States nor any other country able to prevent them or provide guarantees that such attacks would not be renewed."

At the state department the official text of the Finnish note still was awaited, but Secretary Hull indicated he had gleaned enough from press reports to impel him to emphasize once again that the basic question between Washington and Helsinki was a question not of words but of issues.

Says Farm Prices To Top 1919 Peaks
Coez, Neb., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Dr. Herman Haag, Nebraska University farm economist, predicted tonight farm prices would exceed their 1919 peaks during the next three years.

But he added, "if the present monetary policy is retained, the post-war depression will be more drastic than that of 1929-32."

Dr. Haag, speaking at an extension service pasture-forage-livestock meeting, expressed the opinion "prices will rise for at least three years and may continue high for six years or more I expect the farm price peak of this war period to be even higher than that of 1919."

Union Shop For Miners Is Sought

Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—President Roosevelt called a new conference on the raging coal dispute today as mounting labor troubles threatened to halt soft coal production, tie up the nation's railroads and possibly defeat the neutrality revision bill.

While a CIO boycott of the national defense mediation board dealt a crippling blow to that peace-making agency, Mr. Roosevelt asked three CIO leaders and three major steel company executives to talk with him at the White House on Friday.

Those invited: Philip Murray, CIO president; John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president; Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the UMW; Frank Purnell of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Corporation; Benjamin F. Fairless of the United States Steel Corporation, and Eugene G. Grace of Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

State Charges Blast Planned By Labor Union Officials
Decatur, Ill., Nov. 12.—(AP)—State's Attorney Ivan J. Hutchens told a circuit court jury today that the bombing of an oil pipeline near here in 1940 was instigated and planned by labor union officials.

Hutchens in his opening statement charged that the plan to bomb the pipeline was instigated by Harry E. Meisenheimer, business agent for the Decatur Common Laborer's union one of the eleven persons on trial on conspiracy charges in connection with the bombing.

Approved by Executive Board
The state's attorney said that Meisenheimer's scheme had been "approved by the executive board of the union," and later he and Stewart C. Lorton, business agent of the East St. Louis Bolshemakers' union, arranged for the bombing. Hutchens said they employed the services of George Diehl of East St. Louis and George Bruns of Granite City to do the actual bombing. The latter two and Morton also are defendants in the trial.

Hutchens said a fund was established to pay Diehl and Bruns and after the bombing they had been given $375 at one time and unspecified amounts at later dates. Among the contributors to the fund, Hutchens said, were Mack Ray, business agent for the Decatur Teamsters' union and George E. Good of Springfield, business agent for the Hoisting Engineers' union, both of whom are defendants.

King Declines To Make Statement
Ottawa, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King declined today to make any statement on Canada's policy in the event of war between the United States and Japan but indicated she would follow Britain's lead.

H. A. Bruce, conservative, asked in the House of Commons whether the government intended to subscribe to Prime Minister Churchill's statement that Britain's declaration of war would follow within the hour of the outbreak of a Japanese-American war.

"The attitude of Canada toward the United States and toward Britain and toward relations between Britain and the United States is well known throughout Canada and I think I may say through the world," King said, adding that no further comment was considered advisable at this time.

FDR's Cold Improving
Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's cold which kept him confined to his quarters in the White House proper today, was better tonight.

The chief executive's personal physician, Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntire, said the President had half a degree of temperature this morning but that this vanished during the day. He said he thought Mr. Roosevelt would be back on a normal schedule tomorrow.

The president caught a head cold when he spoke halloo and without an overcoat at Armistice Day ceremonies yesterday in the amphitheater in Arlington cemetery.

Lueder Authorizes Dividend Payment
Chicago, Nov. 12.—(AP)—State Auditor Arthur C. Lueder announced today he had authorized payment of a 4.95 per cent dividend amounting to $10,643.43 to approximately 1,000 depositors of the Gibson City State Bank of Gibson City, Ill. He said the dividend was the last to be paid since the bank closed and brought the total paid up to 44.95 per cent.

In addition to the last dividend, Lueder said $879.78 was paid to preferred creditors and $13,985 on bills payable. The payment was from ordinary liquidation.

JEWELRY STOLEN
Chicago, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Louis Rifas reported to police today that burglars had stolen $20,000 in jewelry, $800 in cash and bonds worth $800 from his jewelry store on West Chicago avenue. He said they smashed their way through a wooden door and broke into a safe. Listed among the loot were 720 diamond rings and 300 gold watches.

Bulletin
Springfield, Ill., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Attorney General George F. Barrett said tonight that he had sent letters to State Treasurer Warren Wright and State Auditor Arthur C. Lueder directing them to stop all state payroll "until further notice."

Barrett said that the order to the two state officials followed the issuance in Chicago Monday by Circuit Judge Philip J. Finnegan of a permanent injunction restraining six state officials from paying the salaries of several hundred "temporary" employees allegedly appointed in violation of the state civil service law.

Slush Fund Paid For Bombing Of Pipeline, Claim

Dobbin is a valuable asset to power when machines lie down.
The little story of the farmer who hitched a team of horses to his tractor to help it get through the sodden fields in its business of husking corn, is an instance in point. Tractor wheels may turn round and round in a field that is a quagmire, but the heavy draft horse can dig in and get the leverage that pulls the load.
In the days when automobiles were tricky things and could not negotiate a muddy road, horses often were brought in to help. It looks now as if big, strong horses would be a good thing to have around the place when tractors get balky.

Australia In War

Australia, one of the components of the British empire, is actively in the war against the axis powers with a half million men under arms or service at home and overseas. The great majority of them joined the forces voluntarily.

There are 200,000 women now engaged in industrial work, compared to less than 5,000 before the war. The morale of the people is high, with thousands of voluntary workers, men, women, and children contributing their time and energy and money to prosecution of the war.
The fighting forces of Australia have achieved a great record in battle, on land, sea, and air.

Just now in the new crisis in the Pacific, it is noted that a large Australian force stands guard in Malaya to defend British interests against the threat from Japan.

The average weight of an elephant is about five tons.

Mrs. Edward Tendick Will Entertain Members At All Day Quilting

Murrayville—Mrs. Edward Tendick will be hostess Friday to the Past Noble Grand Club of Murrayville Rebekah Lodge No. 78 at an all day meeting and quilting, with pot-luck dinner at noon. The regular program will be held in the afternoon.
Clifford Alred, Miss Gabel Grider and Miss Nellie Million motored to Danville Sunday and visited Fred Tendick, who is attending school there.

Guests at Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Hanback and children, Dickie and Bobbie of Peoria, were week end visitors with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Mawson. On Sunday the entire group were dinner

With five of their number towering above six feet in stature, 15 Jacksonville and Morgan county selectees left Wednesday morning for Peoria to become soldiers in Uncle Sam's defense army which is now approaching the two million mark. That the draft examiners are not overlooking any betas was shown by the difference in physical make-up of the contingent. The tallest man in the contingent is 6 feet, 6 inches; the shortest is 5 feet, 4 inches.

Ten of the men who left yesterday registered with the city draft board, four with the county draft board, and one was a transfer from another state. Two of the 15 are married.

Towering more than six feet and a half in his sock feet, James E. Frye is the tallest selectee who has been sent from Morgan county. Frye has been principal of the school at Buffalo, Ill. He was not alone in height, however, for Francis James Clancy is 6 feet, 4 inches; John L. Padgett and George Henry Ames are 6 feet, 3 inches, while Wayne R. Hills and Edwin Thomas Harrison are six footers.

After roll call at the city draft board offices, George Henry Ames was appointed leader of his group. Clarence Edward Fanning was named leader of the county contingent.

Accompanied by relatives and friends, the selectees went from draft headquarters to the union bus depot where at 9:25 a.m. they said farewells and left for Springfield, the first stop on a trip to the induction center at Peoria. Examinations were scheduled for this afternoon in Peoria.

John L. Padgett joined the city group as a transfer from Dayton, Ohio.

With the 15 men filling the November quota for the city and county, no additional men are expected to be sent from this community until December. A large number have been examined ready for call when additional quotas are received.

Jacksonville public schools was discussed in a report of Supt. R. O.
Stoops made Tuesday night at the meeting of the Board of Education.
Dr. Stoops reported school health, which is a barometer of the general health of the community, to have been about as follows for the month of October.
He said:
"The health conditions for the month of October were normal. One case of scarlet fever was discovered and placed under quarantine and four cases of whooping cough.
"The school nurse inspected 762 pupils for possible symptoms of scarlet fever. Nine pupils were taken home ill but nothing serious developed in any one of these pupils. Twelve wounds were dressed and four pupils were sent home with skin eruptions. The nurse made 27 home visits; 346 pupils were carefully inspected which revealed 42 cases of defective vision, 14 cases of defective hearing, 152 cases of defective teeth, 3 nasal obstructions, 36 abnormal throats and 27 cases of athletes foot.

"The nurse visited all of the grade and junior high classrooms to explain the health program and to arouse interest in securing the correction of defects as soon as they are discovered.
The cooperation of the Parent-Teacher Associations is being sought for the same purpose."

Selling Basketball Season Tickets

Versailles—Faculty members of the Versailles high school attended the annual high school conference in Champaign last Friday.
This week, Sergeant Sherman of the state highway department will speak at an assembly Wednesday.
Thursday the combined bands of Mercedosa and Chambersburg, and the girls' sextet, under the direction of Vernon Orr, are scheduled to appear.

Budget Inadequate
Students are undertaking a ticket-selling campaign for the basketball unable to provide adequately for the costs of renting the gym, hiring officials, traveling, equipment, and printing.

Season tickets, providing a saving of $1, may be obtained from all students and faculty members, and from a number of local merchants. Irene Kleinlein and Phyllis Chapman are cheer leaders of the Versailles teams.

Hot Lunch Program
The hot lunch program began at the local school last week. About 80 students receive their lunches at school each day. New gas burners have been installed in the kitchen, replacing the old kerosene stoves.
Extra-curricular activities at the school include sports, clubs in typing, photography, collecting, knitting, and personality, music hours, patrol boys' organization, student council, newspaper staff and class meetings.

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, putting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Tulane Baffled By Vanishing Offense

By Whitney Martin
New York, Nov. 12.—(The Special News Service)—Tulane has a new one this year—a disappearing offense. It disappears every other week, and even Horace Renegar doesn't know where it goes.

"How should I know where it goes," he sputters. "There it is one week, big as life. The next week—whish—It's gone. Nobody knows where. It's gone that's all, just like yesterday. Where's yesterday? You answer me that and I'll tell you where the offense goes on its days off."

Horace, a round little man with laugh wrinkles and worry wrinkles, fighting for a place on the Tulane-N.Y.U. game. He is Tulane's publicity man, and doubles as Sugar Bowl publicity director. He was a symphony in black, from shoes to necktie, and looked like he might be going to a funeral, which you know he wasn't, as it's Tulane's turn to win this week.

"I don't know what's wrong," he continued. "When the team is up it is the best Tulane team I ever saw."

And that includes Clark Shaughnessy's team of 1925, and Bernie Bierman's teams of 1929, 1930, and 1931, and Ted Cox's team which opened the Sugar Bowl in 1934, and Red Dawson's team of 1939.

Could Whip Anybody
When it's right, it could beat anybody. It's the most versatile team I ever saw. Why, we have three left halfbacks—Lou Thomas, Bob Glass and Jim Ely—who are stars. The only possible explanation I know of is that the boys can't stay keyed up week after week the way they have to with the schedule we've got."

It is astonishing how Tulane has played. The Green were using quite a bit of "T" this year, mixed with the single wing. In fact, Shaughnessy, leading college exponent of the "T", got his coaching start at Tulane, although that isn't necessarily the reason the Greens are using it now.

Shaughnessy got his Tulane job through a personal appearance tour, more or less. It was around 1915, and the school was in the market for a coach. It was considering four men—Shaughnessy, Knute Rockne, Dana Bible and Ray Morrison.

Rockne wanted $1,700
Rockne set his price at $1,700 for the season, and Shaughnessy asked $1,500. What the other two wanted we can't say offhand. At any rate, the Tulane officials wanted to look over the prospects. Rockne was too busy at Notre Dame at the time to make the trip, but Shaughnessy hurried down to New Orleans and P. S. he got the job.

Rockne went on to become the most famous of all football coaches before his untimely death. As for Bible, Shaughnessy and Morrison, you couldn't buy their spare time here for breakfast for $1,500 now. But at that time they were all young fellows fresh from school, and coaching salaries hadn't yet been pumped up. What is it Bible gets now, anyway? Fifteen thousand per under a 10-year contract?

Tulane football still has a very sharp Minnesota taste. Shaughnessy was a Minnesota graduate, and he stayed at Tulane through 1926. Then came Bernie Bierman, another Minnesota product, to remain through 1931. Then came Ted Cox, still another Gopher, who was with the Greens through 1933.

And finally there is Dawson, the only non-Gopher. However, he is a Gopher by proxy more or less, as he played for Bierman at Tulane and later assisted him at Minnesota.

Football Records Topple In I. C. Game At St. Louis

New Record for Total Passes Attempted Set in Washington U. Game Saturday
By Gail Fowler
Seattle, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Football records fell while Washington University's Bears of St. Louis were wallowing in Illinois College 53-12 last week. When it was all over Bud Schwank, Washington's star halfback, figured in two statistical records and soared into first place for total individual offensive and forward passing yards gained.

The American Football Statistical Bureau reported that:
Schwank completed 28 out of 48 passes for 351 yards; gained 165 yards in rushing the ball 15 times; set a total offensive record for one game by compiling 516 yards from running and passing; punted Washington's only spiral for 44 yards, scored a touchdown, and then, exhausted, missed a try for point.

Illinois College, of Jacksonville, Ill., completed 16 out of 28 passes for 180 yards, making a total of 81 passes attempted in one game, a modern record. The old mark was 72, held jointly by Texas Christian-Baylor and Arkansas-Tulsa in 1937.

Schwank's iron man performance jumped him from fifth to first place in total offense with 1,290 yards gained in six games.

He went into a technical tie as a forward passing leader with Owen "Mugsy" Price of Texas Mines. Both have completed 73 throws, but Schwank averages higher because he's tossed 147 compared to Price's 152, and has compiled 936 aerial yards to Price's 736. Schwank has had eight interceptions. Price hit the wrong target 11 times.

Sinkwich, of Georgia, who's had a terrific ground gaining year, leads the rushers with 765 yards. In seven games he's juggled the ball 149 times and may surpass the modern record of rushes established last year by Oklahoma A. & M.'s Jimmy Reynolds of 159 in eight games.

Wisconsin Badgers Will Seek to Beat Their 500 Score

Analyze Reasons for Lack of Better Showing; Big Ten Plays This Week
Chicago, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The Wisconsin Badgers, leading scorers in the Big Ten, will try to better their 500 standing in the conference.

In four games they have scored 98 points, nine more than runner-up Northwestern has scored in five. Yet they have only two victories to show for their efforts.

The answer might be found in the record of the opposition—17 touchdowns.

Against Ohio State, for instance, the Badgers crossed the goal line five times. They neglected their own back door, however, and the Buckeyes slipped across seven times.

So it will be no surprise if the Badgers completely reverse their policy against Purdue, a team, incidentally, that has been defense minded most of the season.

Purdue's attitude, of course, could well be a hangover from last year's Wisconsin game. The Boilermakers dominated that game for 54 minutes and were ahead 13 to 0 going into the final minutes only to have Wisconsin bounce back to win 14-13, the winning point after touchdown coming after the gun had ended play.

At any rate, in six games this year, only three teams have made touchdowns against the Boilermakers. In the only conference games played by Purdue, Ohio State and Iowa both crossed the goal line, the Buckeyes winning 16 to 14 and Iowa losing 7 to 6.

Yesterday, Wisconsin held a long defensive workout against Purdue formations. Then, in a further attempt to bolster the defense Coach Harry Stuhldreher shifted a second string fullback, Len Calligaro, to center, and returned Pat Lyons and Bud Seelinger to halfback positions.

Purdue also engaged in a long scrimmage session.

Iowa, preparing for the undefeated Minnesota juggernaut, also made defensive shifts—Al Urban and Joe Byrd, both 200 pounders, taking over guard positions. Minnesota, meantime, got a definite lift with the return of Captain Bruce Smith and Herman Frickay.

Ohio State scrimmaged for its game with Illinois, but the Illini, idle Monday, drew only a light drill.

In the other camps, Michigan polished its passing attack for Columbia and Northwestern concentrated on running plays for Notre Dame. Indiana has no game this week.

Offer New Formula For Prevention of Possible Inflation

Suggest Forced Stamp Plan of Savings; How It Is Supposed to Work
Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—A formula for applying the brakes to inflation and prices through a forced stamp plan system of savings was reported under consideration in administration circles today.

The plan, said to have originated with Vice President Wallace, was being studied by some congressional leaders with the thought that it might provide not only a curb on threatened inflationary price increases but also might open a relatively untapped field for treasury borrowing.

As reportedly outlined by Wallace and others, the scheme would require the retail purchases of designated commodities to pay for a fixed quantity of defense savings stamps in order to obtain possession of the article they were buying.

What Might Happen
Thus a man who desired to get a small $10 radio might be forced to buy $1 worth of defense savings stamps in order to complete his purchase. When a consumer had accumulated sufficient stamps, he could turn these in on a government bond which would be cashable after the emergency ended.

Wallace was described as contending that such a program would serve to check inflationary buying primarily by making the actual cash outlay for purchases higher. At the same time, the purchaser would be laying aside a portion of his income for expenditures after the emergency ended, thus reducing his current buying power.

Ray Hanson, football coach at Western Teachers, couldn't believe his eyes during the I.C. frosh-Western "B" team game Tuesday. Approaching Athletic Director Claude N. Beasley after the game, he queried, credulously, "Bease, do mean to tell me that those boys are all freshmen?" Hanson's "B" team didn't have a chance in the game, making its infrequent advances by an aerial attack that was more often than not messed up by Blueboy backs. . . The frosh will defend their undefeated record in their closing game of the season here Friday afternoon against the Billiken yearlings of St. Louis University. . . John Malamazan, on the bench with injuries during the Macomb game, is expected to be on hand for the fray Friday.

Mason Campbell, coach at Roodhouse, is in his seventh year as sports director of the Railroaders and has done wonders with a school whose enrollment runs slightly over two hundred. His football team has an even chance to share Illinois Valley Conference honors this year. Last year's basketball team won the Greene county tourney and placed second in the Valley league.

Among the veterans back for the season is Kenneth Jackson, a 6 foot 1 1/2 inch center. Campbell, by the way, is looking for a game with some team in this vicinity for December 5.

Roodhouse's game with Pittsfield Saturday afternoon should be one of the best attended sports events in Roodhouse history. The Railroaders end their season with the game and a victory will assure them of a share in the league title.

Paul Ketner, former J. H. S. cheerleader, now enrolled at Western Teachers, attended the "B" team game with the Blueboy frosh Tuesday, getting the dope for the I. C. weekly was a former fellow student of Ketner, Jim Johnston. . . In the game, incidentally, the Blueboys rolled up nine first downs in the first quarter alone. . . Jim Jordan, former J.H.S. star line-man, now varsity end with the I. C. frosh, got a little practice in place-kicking during the game, making four of the five Blueboy attempts at conversion but getting only one of the four between the bars.

Place-kicking is an art that hasn't been practiced successfully in this vicinity for some years. Drop-kicking is almost extinct. The last accurate drop-kicker in Jacksonville was Niek Watts, Blueboy star in the days of Coach LaRue VanMeter.

The Tigers pulled a fancy, fast one on the Crimsons in the Armistice Day game and tied up the count in the process. The play was the Tiger attempt at conversion after the lone Tiger touchdown. Frank DeVito waved three or four Tigers down to the extreme right end of the field, obviously setting up for a pass attempt. Instead, he took the center pass and calmly sprinted over the goal through left tackle.

The Crimsons displayed their best blocking performance of the year. The Tigers, during the first quarter, made long gains around end whether there was any blocking or not. The more weighty Crimsons for the time seemed unable to get around fast enough to tag a Tiger, and when they did, the Tiger more often than not twisted free.

Joe Grojean, sophomore back, who started in Jack Neglon's place, also turned in his best performance of the year.

The PMBO tourney will be held at Chapin this year. The dates are January 28, 29, 30 and 31.

John W. Robinson, coach at Alsey high, is looking for some basketball opposition for November 28, December 6, February 6 and February 20.

NICE QUESTION: Why can your skates skim over ice, but not on slickest glass? Because the stroke of the blade melts the ice slightly to provide lubrication.

And why can an ice-cold engine that's OIL-PLATED give smooth, lubricated starts, while lubrication that depends on fast flow alone can often mean harmful dragging starts? Because OIL-PLATING can be up to topmost piston rings before mere fast flow could begin to get there.

An OIL-PLATED engine is yours as you change to popular-priced Conoco Nth oil for Winter. Its man-made extra substance bonds OIL-PLATING—as if "magnetized"—all over inner engine parts. OIL-PLATING can't all quickly drain down. Then before the starter starts, OIL-PLATING can be ready against oil-starved Winter starting . . .

But what soon melts any snow on the hood? Yes, the air underneath gets hotter than hotcha. And then you want the sort of oil economy that took first place for Conoco Nth in the sensational Death Valley Death-Test. Along with five other great quality brands, Conoco Nth showed how long it could stand heat and speed. Each of six identical everyday cars got one strict 5-quart fill of some competing brand tested. All six brands were run alike, without one added drop, till each oil and engine gave out. The Certified Results:

The 5-quart fill in Car No. 2 gave out when Conoco Nth was still up at 3.65 quarts
The 5-quart fill in Car No. 4 gave out when Conoco Nth was still up at 3.55 quarts
The 5-quart fill in Car No. 6 gave out when Conoco Nth was still up at 3.40 quarts
The 5-quart fill in Car No. 5 gave out when Conoco Nth was still up at 3.20 quarts
The 5-quart fill in Car No. 1 gave out when Conoco Nth was still up at 2.70 quarts

Save quarts—save battery—save engine. Change at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station today to Conoco Nth oil for Winter. Continental Oil Company

GAVE TWICE THE ENGINE LIFE! CONOCO Nth

This oil that OIL-PLATES gave its engine more than twice the life averaged by the engines using the other oils in the Death-Test.

In these times use your car prudently. And use oil that's great for engine life—changing regularly as recommended.

Good starting—good lubrication against all needless wear—helps conserve gasoline, too.

STRANGE ATTIRE ON I. C. CAMPUS

It's Homecoming And The Freshmen Are A Sadly Added Lot

Long flannel nightgowns, mittens, night caps—not a wardrobe review from an 1890 Vogue—but just a part of the costume adorning the freshman co-eds of Illinois College during the Homecoming celebration this week end. Annually the climax of the autumn festivities, Homecoming at the college this year is taking on the appearance of a fancy dress parade, the freshmen serving as the models.

To further add to their attractiveness, the fresh co-eds must wear unmatched shoes and stockings, use no make-up other than chalk-white powder, and carry large signs reading, "Beat North Central." For the convenience of all, every freshman girl must pull a small red wagon about the campus for the purpose of carrying the books of upperclassmen.

Pajama-Clad The men of the freshman class are also doing their bit to add to the atmosphere of masquerade by appearing on the campus dressed in pajamas, wearing generous amounts of make-up, and carrying signs similar to those displayed by the girls.

In charge of the freshman initiation is a committee of sophomores which is working in connection with the Homecoming chairman in order to make this the greatest of all I. C. Homecoming celebrations.

DuBois Conducts Red Cross Drive Workers' Session

Albert W. Hall, Chairman Of Morgan Chapter, Speaks For Directors

Robert A. DuBois, general chairman of the Morgan County Red Cross Roll Call, conducted a meeting for Roll Call workers in the business and residential district on Monday afternoon in the Council Room at the City Hall.

Mr. DuBois, chairman of the Morgan County Red Cross Chapter, spoke briefly in behalf of the Board of Directors for the local chapter, stating that he appreciated the interest and willingness the workers had shown in coming to this meeting to receive instructions and kits to use in the Roll Call in the city.

Mr. DuBois told the workers about the activities of the local chapter, stressing the great need for Red Cross memberships this year due to the increase in cases handled each month because of the defense emergency and in assisting the men the armed forces of the United States and their families.

He said that the Red Cross is chartered by congress with the responsibility of acting as a liaison between the men in the military service and their families at home, but the government gives no financial aid to the Red Cross.

The national organization has designated 5,000 Red Cross members as the Morgan county, including Jacksonville, quota this year, which is double last year's quota, Mr. DuBois said, and means where in the past one member in a family joined the Red Cross it will be necessary for two or three members in every family to take a Red Cross membership.

The campaign for Red Cross memberships began yesterday in Jacksonville and Morgan county and will continue through Nov. 30.

Hugh Beggs Gives All-Chopin Program Here Last Evening

Flatteringly Attentive Crowd Hears Memorial To Paderewski

Honoring the memory of Ignace Jan Paderewski, famed Polish pianist, composer, and patriot, who died June 29, 1941, Hugh Beggs, pianist, presented a recital last evening of music composed by Paderewski's compatriot, Frederic Chopin, at Music Hall on the MacMurray College campus.

In the last decade of the nineteenth century, Paderewski came to the new world, bringing within himself a new interpretation of the music of his past as well as many compositions of his contemporaries.

Plays Greatest Work

The program opened with the Fantasia in F minor, Op. 49, acknowledged by critics to be the greatest of Chopin's compositions. It was practically unknown for about 50 years after his death, when the pianists of the Victorian era began to press this great work upon the listening public.

Acknowledged to be one of the greatest piano compositions of all extant literature, it taxes the poesy and endurance of its interpreters. Mr. Beggs gave the Fantasia a finely sustained interpretation.

After two Mazurkas, Op. 41, No. 3, and Op. 50, No. 3 he played the dramatic and better known Sonata in B flat minor; this work is a four movement composition based on the moods and experiences of a Polish hero depicted by a poet of the seventeenth century. Thanks to Chopin, that Polish hero lives and is known throughout the world in this work. This wonderful sonata has never a dull moment.

The third group offered the Barcarolle, Op. 60, three Etudes without Opus, presenting rhythmic problems and the great Polonaise in F sharp minor, Op. 44.

The Famous Preludes

The fourth group consisted of the twenty-four Preludes, Op. 28, presenting the twenty-four different keys of European music and the range of human emotion, expressed so graphically in Chopin's many moods. Of these preludes George Sand has said, "They are masterpieces. Several call up visions of long-dead monks and the sound of dirges that haunted him."

Others are melancholy and sweet... Others, again, are cheerful and sad, and while they charm your ear, they break your heart."

Many of these are known to most musicians—the hauntingly plaintive fourth, the tender, whirling brief seventh, and the brilliant twenty-fourth; few musicians attempt them all. Mr. Beggs gave them a splendid interpretation, playing them without interruption.

Mastery of Numbers

Through the long and taxing program, Mr. Beggs convinced his audience of his mastery of the numbers chosen. Now in the eleventh consecutive year of his work in Jacksonville he has proven himself a sincere, ambitious and humble student. Having an insatiable thirst for the best things, he never ceases his study.

During his years as a teacher at MacMurray he has constantly grown; he has come to be known in central Illinois as a dependable teacher, a piano soloist, and an ensemble player, and an outstanding accompanist. His solo recitals betray him to his listeners as an avid, faithful, thirsting musician who reveals himself as the rapidly growing student of his art.
